Campus Militants Plan To Spark Labor Revolt

By The Associated Press
Leaders of the radical student group that disrupted college campuses across the country during the past year now are talking of spreading their gospel of revolution to America's working classes.
The objective, said one national officer of Students for a Democratic Society, is "an alliance between students and workers—like in France."
Carl Davidson, SDS national secretary, said as the first step an undisclosed number of SDS members are taking summer jobs in big-city factories and are moving into blue-collar neighborhoods.

"We will learn how the workers think and how they live," Davidson said. "Then we can organize."
SDS, which claims 35,000 members on more than 200 campuses, has made similar attempts at community organizing in the past—generally without success.

In 1963, it launched Economic Research and Action Projects (ERAP) in slum areas of 10 cities, but two years later dissolved the ERAP structure.
"Our rhetoric sometimes gets ahead of our programs," Davidson said.
The renewed talk of expanding off campus follows two developments:
1. A year of unprecedented unrest on U.S. campuses, beginning with demonstrations against the Vietnam war and the military draft and ending with a paralyzing student strike at Columbia University.

2. The wave of disorders in France, sparked by a student-worker alliance that plunged President Charles de Gaulle's government into its gravest crisis.
Some SDS members contend the group should maintain its campus orientation, at least for present, and forget about trying to organize workers. Thus, the proposals for community organizing may touch off debate at an 11-hour plenary session today at the SDS' annual convention at Michigan State University, East Lansing. Newsmen covering this week's convention are handed a nine-point memorandum stating that no one can be quoted directly or indirectly. And reporters were excluded from two workshops Wednesday.

But in the days preceding the convention, The Associated Press interviewed scores of SDS officers and members from Brooklyn to Berkeley. The bold talk of converting SDS into a broadly based home for all radicals cropped up repeatedly in these interviews and in various SDS documents.

"You're not a student forever," Davidson said as he ate apple pie in a restaurant near the SDS national office in Chicago and talked of the off-campus organizing plans—a project he dubbed "Discover America."
The 24-year-old Penn State graduate, who sports a shaggy mustache and wears heavy boots, plans to move to Philadelphia as an organizer after his term as national secretary ends this weekend.

"We're using draft resistance as the basis to get into the community," Davidson said, "but we hope the organizations will become multi-issue and will concern themselves with cops, welfare, rats and rent."
In a recent issue of the Guardian, a radical left weekly newspaper, Davidson summed up the goal. "It should be clear," he said, "that the aim of the resistance strategy is to transform itself into a class-conscious revolutionary socialist movement."

Steve Halliwell, a graduate student at Columbia and one of SDS' eight-at-large national officers, insisted SDS has "no blueprint" for the future.
"We want a free society," Halliwell said. "The shape of

LBJ Vows Effort To Cut Atom Arms

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — President Johnson, in a surprise visit to the United Nations, congratulated the General Assembly Wednesday on approving the treaty to check the spread of nuclear weapons and promised vigorous American efforts to de-escalate the nuclear arms race.
Johnson told the assembly in a 12-minute speech that the nuclear nonproliferation pact was "the most important international agreement in the field of disarmament since the nuclear age began."
Johnson entered the assembly hall shortly after the delegates approved the treaty 95-4 with 21 abstentions. Albania, Cuba, Tanzania and Zambia voted no. The resolution of approval recommended that all nations sign and ratify the treaty as soon as possible.

Albania and Cuba boycotted the President's speech, but those who heard him gave him the standing ovation before and after that is customary when a chief of state speaks to the assembly.
A few hours later, the assembly adjourned its 22nd session which began Sept. 19, recessed Dec. 19, and resumed April 24 to deal with the nonproliferation treaty and the U.N. effort to end South Africa's control over South-West Africa.
The nuclear treaty, first presented last August by the United States and the Soviet Union in the Geneva Disarmament Committee, binds signatory nations with nuclear weapons not to transfer them to other countries and nations without such weapons not to acquire them.

Johnson congratulated "all who have contributed to this historic event." He said the United States would "move rapidly" to open the treaty for signature, sign it, seek senatorial ratification and scrupulously carry it out.
Promote Peace Uses
"We shall, as the treaty requires," he declared, "facilitate the fullest possible exchange of equipment, materials, scientific and technical information for the peaceful uses of nuclear energy. . . . We shall share . . . nuclear explosions for peaceful purposes. . . ."
"Finally, in keeping with our obligations under the treaty, we shall, as a major nuclear power, promptly and vigorously pursue negotiations on effective measures to halt the nuclear arms race and to reduce existing nuclear arsenals. . . ."
The treaty was sponsored by three of the five nuclear powers—the United States, the Soviet Union and Britain. France boycotted the long negotiations in Geneva which produced the draft, and Red China continuously assailed it as a Soviet-American plot to preserve their nuclear dominance. But the treaty got support Wednesday from French Delegate Armand Berard, who told the assembly that although his government would not sign the pact, it would behave "exactly like those states that decided to adhere to it."

NRA Challenges Gun Mailing Ban

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Rifle Association has questioned the legality of a Post Office Department move to curb the traffic in mail order guns.
But if past practice holds and the early reaction of those who deal with weapons is any indication, it appears likely that it will be business as usual for the gun mail order houses until—and unless—Congress enacts stiffer controls.
Postmaster General W. Marvin Watson announced new postal rules Wednesday under which packages containing guns will not be accepted for mailing unless clearly labeled "Firearms."

ity to hold up mail delivery of guns, particularly to states that have no laws restricting the purchase of firearms. Most states don't.
"That can be tested in the courts. Let's see," said the department spokesman.
Watson also urged private express companies to follow the department's lead.

Humphrey Concerned By Image Among The Young

WASHINGTON (AP) — Strategists for Hubert H. Humphrey are looking beyond Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy's challenge to how the vice president can convince voters—especially young ones—that he is not just part of the status quo.
"The pressure is off as far as the convention is concerned," said a Humphrey adviser, but he acknowledged concern over how Humphrey is regarded, especially by young voters.
But McCarthy, resuming his campaign against Humphrey Wednesday for the Democratic presidential nomination, said Wednesday he doubts the accuracy of tabulations indicating a heavy Humphrey lead in delegates to the party's August convention.
Rocky Tours Watts
On the Republican side, New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller toured the Watts area in Los Angeles Wednesday — eluding his heavy guard to wade into a throng of high school youngsters at one point—and commented on commitments like that in Vietnam.
"We cannot act as the world's policeman," Rockefeller said.

"Before we commit even small forces, all the far-reaching implications of this act must be faced—as they were not faced in Vietnam. We must not find ourselves with a commitment looking for a justification."
Rockefeller also said he would "accept immediately" a debate with former Vice President Richard M. Nixon if one of the television networks offers time.
Dick Spurns Debate
Nixon, regarded the GOP front runner, turned down such a debate, saying through a spokesman that "I would only serve the Democrats by promoting divisive tendencies among Republicans."
Third-party candidate George C. Wallace, campaigning in Chattanooga, Tennessee, said Wednesday the government should register Communists, and strict law enforcement is the way to abolish crime.
"They ought to abolish crime by putting people in jail," Wallace said. "I'll tell you what's brought more crime than guns: It's the Supreme Court of the United States. . . . and those in high places."

Another Humphrey adviser concerned about a status quo tag on the vice president said he thinks Humphrey should begin telling voters in detail about his programs and his views on the draft and the conditions of Negroes.
Told Stress Differences
The vice president, relaxing at his home in Waverly, Minn., has no public appearances scheduled until early July. But his adviser said Humphrey should not wait until after the convention to begin stumping the country.
The adviser's recommendation was that Humphrey begin acting next month as if he were already the Democratic nominee and start delivering speeches that "would make clear that there is a big difference between Humphrey and Nixon. . . . to show Humphrey is not another Richard Nixon or another face in the status quo."
McCarthy told a news conference Wednesday it would "be very difficult" for him to support Humphrey as the nominee if the vice president retains his position as a supporter of the Vietnam policy.

Hostages Free; Prisoner's Girl Is Held By FBI

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The director of the U.S. Bureau of Prisons personally has agreed to demands by four armed inmates in the U.S. Penitentiary as the price for the safety of 21 hostages.

After the concessions were made, Director Myrl Alexander told a news conference Wednesday the four inmates would be prosecuted "for any crimes for which they can be indicted."

Alexander and Warden Olin G. Blackwell agreed to transfer two of the four prisoners—Ralph M. Lepiscopo and Frederick Freeman Leister Jr.—to other penal institutions, without loss of family visiting privileges.

In response to another demand, Alexander promised to have Justice Department officials review the severity of the 30-year sentence of Robert W. Gorman.

Prison officials also agreed to permit the inmates' grievances to be printed in the Atlanta Journal, to allow the press to make periodic inspection tours of the federal prison and to investigate the prisons food and dining room facilities.

"The objective was to bring out these hostages alive. We brought them out alive," Alexander said.

"It was like being in a cage with an animal. Thank God, there were a few there who knew how to pray and that's all that helped us," said Mrs. H. J. Autrey, one of the hostages released after the agreements were worked out.

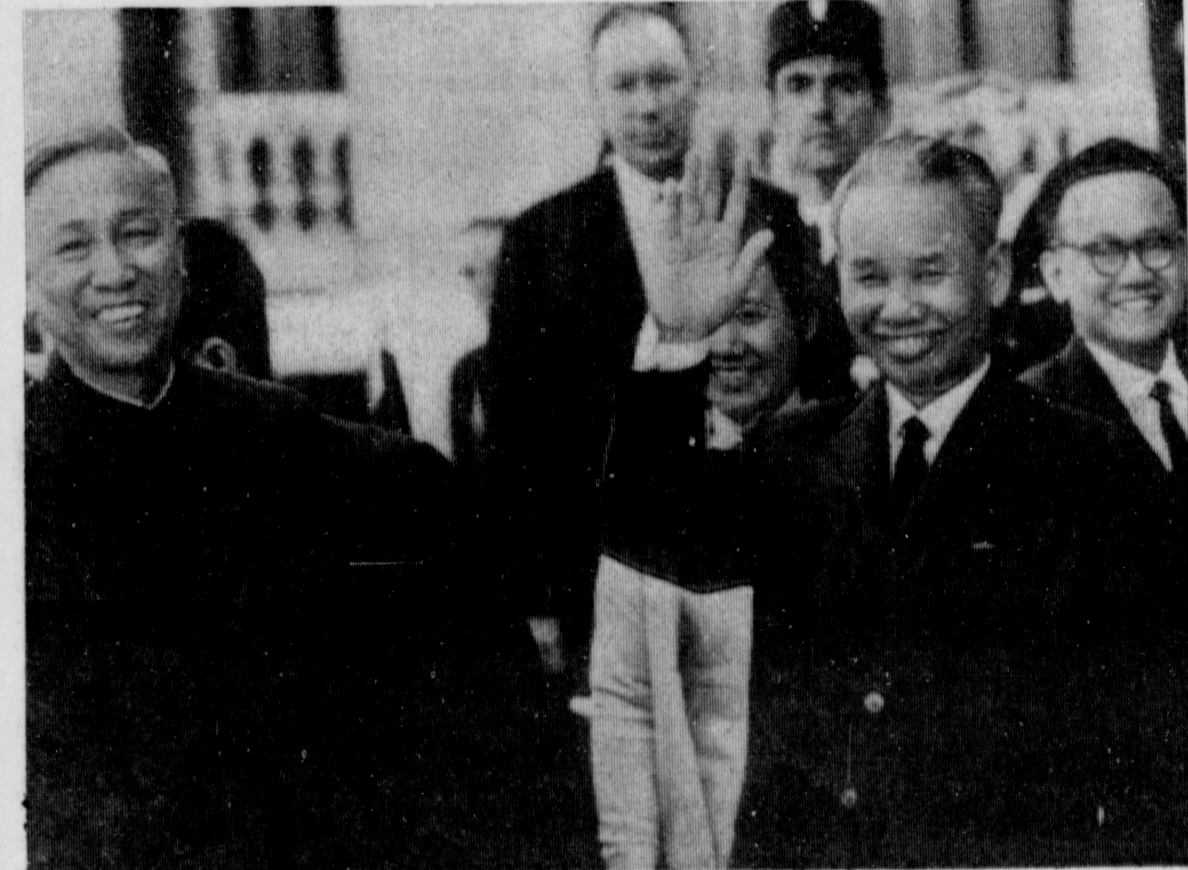

Mrs. Autrey, a secretary, was one of the 25 persons first held hostage. Four were released earlier, one to take the list of grievances to Blackwell who talked by radio with the inmates throughout Tuesday night and Wednesday morning seeking a settlement.

The hostages walked unharmed from the prison into bright sunshine. Some were dazed, calling the experience a "nightmare." Others said their four captors were courteous and considerate.

In a surprise move, the FBI immediately arrested the fiancée of Lepiscopo on charges of smuggling two pistols, ammunition and hacksaw blades into the maximum security prison Sunday.

The arrest of Miss Arlene Anna Granito, 25, a native of Newark, N. J., came only minutes after the inmates agreed to surrender and tossed their two revolvers from a second story window of the prison.

'Orphan Annie' Too Violent, Paper Cancels

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — The Greensboro Daily News is dropping Dick Tracy and Little Orphan Annie comic strips. The morning paper of more than 90,000 circulation announced in today's editions: "We feel that their constant exploitation and advocacy of violence by law enforcement officers and the good guys outweigh any value the strips might have in promoting the theory that crime does not pay."

The front page announcement also said:
"The Greensboro Daily News has for some time been concerned about the popularization of violence which is so prevalent in this period of history. We have been quick to criticize other communications media for exploiting and even glorifying violence."

"However, we have our own weaknesses in this field, and it is only right that we take the necessary steps to bring our practices into line with our editorial policy."

Little Orphan Annie has run in the paper since 1926, and Dick Tracy since 1939.

Copper Country Roads Damaged By Heavy Rains

LANSING (AP) — Heavy rains early this week caused some damage to highways in Keweenaw, Baraga and Ontonagon counties in the western Upper Peninsula, reports the State Highway Department.

A culvert was washed out on M 26, temporarily closing the highway to traffic between Eagle River and Eagle Harbor. Repairs are expected to be completed by the end of the week.

The Eagle River overflowed its banks in Phoenix, causing some settling of M 26 and U.S. 41. The highways were opened to traffic Wednesday.

The Gratiot River washed away the shoulders of M 26 and U.S. 41 north of Mohawk, but the highways were soon opened to traffic.

Severe shoulder washouts also were reported along state highways in Baraga and Ontonagon Counties. Repairs are underway.

Saigon Fearful Of More Rockets

SAIGON (AP) — Threats of a new ground attack and 100-rocket barrages fanned the fears of Saigon's three million people today although the Viet Cong spared them for the second straight day.

The enemy's Liberation Radio broadcast warnings that the shelling of the capital would be renewed Monday and would continue for 100 consecutive days with nightly barrages of 100 rockets. It told the Saigonese to flee from the city.

Senior U.S. officials expressed doubt that the Viet Cong was capable of carrying out the rocket threat.

They said that the enemy might be able to get 100 rockets into position for one spectacular bombardment, but they could not possibly keep it up.

There were reports also that Viet Cong infantrymen would renew their attacks on the capital Saturday after laying off a week. Several propaganda leaflets were found in northern Saigon saying guerrillas would seize the area and the residents should go at least 500 yards away from their homes to avoid the fighting.

In light scattered action today, the Viet Cong hurled 20 mortar shells at an ammunition dump four miles northwest of the capital before dawn and shelled two provincial capitals. But Saigon itself had one of its quietest nights since ground and rocket attacks on the city began May 5.

In the air war over North Vietnam, American pilots flew 135 missions Wednesday over the southern panhandle. Their primary targets were highways, and trucks and cargo barges.

U.S. military headquarters reported that 380 Americans were killed in combat in Vietnam last week, the lowest toll in five weeks. It was 58 less than the previous week.

The announcement said 2,739 Americans were wounded in action, more than 1,000 below the figure for the previous week. It said 1,360 of them required hospitalization.

Sheep's Heart Fails For Man

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Surgeons failed today in what they described as an attempt to save a dying man by transferring the heart of a sheep into his body.

The operation was performed at St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital, where four human heart transplants took place in recent weeks. Two of those patients survived.

Officials would not identify the man, 47, who died in surgery today. They said his heart failed Wednesday morning and he was referred to the hospital for a possible transplant after being revived with difficulty.

"No donor patient was available," a St. Luke's statement said. "As a last resort the insertion of the heart of a 125-pound sheep was attempted at 11:15 p.m. in an effort to support circulation until a suitable donor might become available."

"The patient's condition was terminal during surgery, could not be reversed and further efforts were abandoned. The patient was pronounced dead at 1:02 a.m."

Spokesmen said a sheep was selected with tissue matching that of the patient. Hospital Administrator Newell France described it as "a rather bizarre situation."

It was the second known case in which a human being has received the heart of an animal.

Surgeons at the University of Mississippi Medical Center transferred the heart of a chimpanzee to a man on Jan. 24, 1964. It worked for an hour.

Still Holding At Paris, But Debating Plan

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam appears to be edging toward confidential talks with the United States on Vietnamese peace issues, although it is still conducting a diplomatic holding operation in the Paris conference.

Ambassador Xuan Thuy of North Vietnam is considering a proposal by U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman Wednesday that "both sides reduce the propaganda output following each meeting" they hold here.

The public release of formal statements would be ended under the Harriman plan, and spokesmen for each side would give only a "general description" of what had been said in the closed conference room. The eight talks so far held have been followed in each case by release of the formal statements of Harriman and Thuy.

U.S. officials said they found some encouragement in Thuy's stated agreement to study the proposal. In earlier sessions when Harriman suggested semi-private or secret discussions Thuy rejected the idea.

The Americans had no assurance that his response in a future meeting would not again be negative, but they felt he would not have agreed even to study the proposal unless he and his advisers were thinking about modifying their tactics.

Harriman and Thuy met the first time a month ago today. They held their eighth session Wednesday and agreed to meet again next Wednesday.

This is the second time a seven-day recess has intervened between talks, and both of the long delays have been at Thuy's suggestion.

Thuy's tactics make clear that North Vietnam wants to keep the discussions going but is looking primarily to events on the battlefield in South Vietnam and to world public opinion to reinforce its demands on the United States to stop all attacks on North Vietnamese territory.

US-2 Bypass Of City Is Requested

The US-2 Improvement Council meeting at The Terrace Wednesday afternoon approved a petition campaign to impress Governor Romney and the Michigan Highway Department with the unhappiness of the Upper Peninsula over the state's highway system north of Mackinac.

The petitions will be circulated by representatives of the 7 counties represented in the Council, which is headed by William Asselin of Norway. The counties are Mackinac, Schoolcraft, Delta, Menominee, Dickinson, Iron and Gogebic and they are promoting development of US-2, the chief east-west highway in the U.P.

The Council also ordered a tabulation of the amounts of highway construction contracts in the Lower Peninsula and the Upper Peninsula so the information can be made available to legislators and the public.

Spending In U.P.

William Karas, Delta County highway engineer and the county's representative on the Council, said that the current expenditures of the state on highway construction at eight-tenths of one per cent of the state today. The U.P. is nearly a geographical third of the state.

Discussion of activities by the Council considered brushing policies on highways, signing, maintenance and other matters but Karas counseled that the Council concern itself with state-federal construction funds as the key to all highway development in the Upper Peninsula. The other matters could be argued after the needed highways were built or rebuilt, but main emphasis should be on new construction, said Karas.

Best 'Stinger'

"That figure of 0.8 per cent of state highway construction funds being spent in the Upper Peninsula is the best 'stinger' that we've got in our fight to get more," said Karas. "It's ridiculous. Until some years ago the state was required by law to spend 25 per cent of its road building funds in the Upper Peninsula."

The discussion revealed that business community sentiment in the Upper Peninsula about highway bypass is changing. Iron County representatives reported that Iron River businessmen are now in favor of a highway bypass of their district.

Manistique Situation

Manistique's representative said that it knows it's going to have US-2 relocated in the city and is agreeable. It would prefer to have it relocated along the shoreline instead of to the north. The present siphon bridge in the city, he said, cannot take an overload.

Karas said that the Delta County Highway Study Committee has suggested to the State Highway Department the construction of a by-pass highway that will be 2.5 miles west of the present highway. It would leave the present route at Gladstone and rejoin the present route of US-2 beyond Memory Lane west of Escanaba. That would clear the Escanaba Airport.

Boondocks Change

"We're talking about something that may be 20 or 25 years ago," said Karas, "but why should we OK a plat and then have to cut a highway right-of-way through it? We should plan these things. When 23rd St., (the route of US-2 and 41 and M-35) was built in Escanaba it was out in the boondocks, but now it's full of schools, churches and businesses and it's worth your life to get across the street with that traffic on it."

"The people who have no intention of stopping in Escanaba want to go past it as fast as they can and we should help them do it. We're going to have a high speed road outside the city. If they're not going to stop they aren't going to help us."

For Two Highways

Karas differs from majority sentiment of the group, which favors support of US-2 only. Karas wants US-2 improved, but he'd like a high speed road across the Upper Peninsula, too; thinks the area needs it.

Karas said Delta's requests of the state:

1. A new highway from Gladstone to Rapid River.
2. A survey for a limited access highway around Gladstone and Escanaba for planning the future development of the area.
3. Improvement of US-2 from Rapid River east.

Action Today

Asselin said that the Council's promotion of US-2 is tardy, but that in Wisconsin and Minnesota there's tardiness, too, because the federal highway is in as poor condition in those states as it is in Michigan.

The next meeting of the Council will be in Ironwood in mid-July.

Also attending the Council meeting were: B. J. Conter, George C. Mussatti, A. G. Jacobson and Frank Besso, Gogebic County; William H. Watts, Emmet Valley, Louis Litzeur Jr., Alex Beisel and Stanley R. Jaroske, Mackinac County; Ward Halls and Leonard Schive, Iron County; Melvin Fazer, Menominee County and Ivar Anderson, William Asselin and D. S. Brumbough, Dickinson County.

Plaintiffs Win Two Judgments In Civil Actions

Verdicts in favor of plaintiffs have been returned by Circuit Court juries in two civil suits tried before Judge Bernard H. Davidson.

Herman A. Helman, 1515 Dakota Ave., Gladstone, was awarded a $557 judgment from Allstate Insurance Co., as payment for damages to his automobile in an accident on Lake Shore Dr., Gladstone, Aug. 4, 1968.

Helman claimed he was entitled to payment under terms of his policy with Allstate because the car was stolen. The insurance company disputed Helman's claim that the car was stolen.

In the other case, Cummins Diesel of Wisconsin, Inc., Milwaukee, won its action against Archel R. Rupert, State Rd., Escanaba. Cummins had sued for payment of a $755.94 bill for work done and materials furnished Rupert between July 13 and July 14, 1966.

The jury ordered full payment of the bill. Rupert had refused to pay because he claimed the work performed failed to satisfactorily repair a truck engine.

"We Cater To Small Groups"

Third Landreville Son Ordained To Priesthood

On Saturday, June 1, the third priest-son of Mr. and Mrs. Hector Landreville, formerly of Hermansville, was ordained by Bishop Charles Salatkia for the Diocese of Marquette. The three brothers are Father Norbert, now pastor at Immaculate Conception Church, Moran, Mich.; Father John, the new ordained, and Father Raphael, Navy chaplain recently promoted to lieutenant commander and stationed at Pensacola, Fla. He is on temporary leave from the Marquette Diocese.

All three were born in Hermansville, where the father was employed for many years by the Wisconsin Land & Lumber Co. With the discontinuation of lumbering operations, Mr. Landreville took a position with Metropolitan Insurance Co. and moved his family to Marquette. Later he was transferred to Wausau, Wis., where they now reside. The three priests, however, retained their ties with the Marquette Diocese.

At 4 p. m., Sunday, June 2, Father John said a private first Mass at the Holiday Inn at Wausau, Wis., for his immediate relatives and close friends, numbering about 75. This was the Mass of the Holy Spirit for Pentecost Sunday and was celebrated by the three priest brothers in an impressive rite. The Mass began with a Penance service and singing of Psalm 129 (Celineau) and a meditation, followed by an absolution. Then came the Liturgy of the Word with a dialogue homily, in which several of the congregation participated.

The Offertory Procession was led by their parents, followed by representative members of the family and friends, who brought individual gifts to the three celebrants for the recitation of the Liturgy of the Eucharist.

Communion under both species was partaken by all in attendance. Then followed a period of reflection and brief remarks by Father John on his view of the ministry of service that was now formally his life. At 5:30 the guests were served an informal dinner at the Inn. Attending from this area were Mr. and Mrs. Norman Farley of Kingsford and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Schultz of Hermansville.

There was an additional parish first Mass at St. Anne's Church, Wausau, on Sunday, June 9, at 1:30 p. m., followed by a reception at 3:30.

Father John's first assignment is as assistant at St. Joseph's Parish, Lake Linden.

Father Raphael was born in Hermansville on June 23, 1926, where he attended grade school. His high school and college education was received at the Salvatorian Seminary, St. Nazianz, Wis.; philosophy at St. Francis Seminary, Milwaukee; and theology at St. John Provincial Seminary, Plymouth, Mich. He was ordained at Marquette on June 4, 1955 by Bishop Thomas L. Noa.

Father Norbert was born in Hermansville on Sept. 6, 1932, and attended grade school until the family's departure. He completed his grade school education at Marquette; high school and college education at St. Nazianz; philosophy at St. Paul Seminary, St. Paul; and theology at St. John's Provincial Seminary. He was ordained at Marquette in June, 1958, by Bishop Noa.

Father John was born in Hermansville on Sept. 27, 1942 and attended grade school at St. Anne Parish, Wausau, Wis. His high school studies were taken at the Salvatorian Seminary, St. Nazianz, junior college at Jordan Seminary, Menominee; college at St. Paul Seminary, St.

Mental Health Board Merger Wins Approval

Merger of Delta County's Act 54 Board with the Marquette-Alger Act. 54 Board providing mental health services to the three counties has been approved by the Board of Supervisors.

Action on the merger and transfer of Delta County Act 54 Board assets to the combined board was taken Tuesday night at a special meeting of the Board of Supervisors at the Delta County building.

The merger was recommended by Dr. George Maniaci of Gladstone, chairman of the Act 54 Board.

Maniaci said formation of a single board for the three counties has "many advantages and no disadvantages" and that the action "will not alter services."

The three counties have been united in a Mental Health Compact under a federal assistance program, but Delta County elected to establish a separate Act 54 Board under the state program.

To Name Representatives
Consolidation of the two Act 54 boards will allow more effective coordination of the mental health program in the three counties and also avoid duplication of administration. The merger previously had been approved by the Boards of Supervisors of Marquette and Alger counties.

It is expected that a committee from the Delta County Board of Supervisors will be named in the near future to select Delta County's representatives on the combined Mental Health board.

In other action, the Board of Supervisors appropriated $5,900 from the 1968 contingency fund to the County Library Board to establish better library service throughout the county; authorized advertising for bids for a check protector, a calculator for the Tax Dept., and a court reporter machine and adopted a resolution authorizing expenditure of up to $3,500 to pay for the equipment, and increased the per diem allowance for supervisors.

Bids Requested

Supervisors have been paid $10 for county board and committee meetings lasting less than four hours and $15 for meetings in excess of four hours. The rates were increased to $15 and $20, respectively.

The old courthouse property on 1st Ave. S., will be re-advertised for bids. A resolution authorizing issue of a deed without restrictions as to use of the property was adopted.

Previous bidding had been with restrictions as to use imposed by the Board of Supervisors, but no bids the board considered acceptable were received.

Ordinance 103 creating County Planning Commission was adopted. The Planning Commission was created by resolution, but an ordinance was required by the federal government to allow Delta County to qualify for federal planning funds.

Transfer of funds not to exceed $40,000 from the Public Improvements Fund to the Road Commission for use in financing construction and improvement of local roads was approved. The money will be used to match township and county road commission fund with one third of the cost of each project coming from each source.

...VITAMINS...

Or — VITA AMINES — as the first researcher called them. Defined by Dr. Funk as "chemical substances, minute quantities of which are essential to the diet of man as a nutritional force for stimulating growth."

Most of the necessary vitamins are widely available in foods. Vitamin deficiencies can be avoided by the simple procedure of eating ample amounts of foods that contain these essential factors. BUT . . . many people do NOT eat a balanced diet. There is, for example, the person on a restricted diet for weight control . . . The coffee and donut eater . . . The individual with impaired digestion . . . or those with plain bad dietary habits. Hence the need for vitamin supplementation.

Are you a poor eater? Should you take vitamins? Only your doctor is qualified to say. See him if you feel under par and suspect that the cause is nutritional. If he recommends vitamins come see us. # Delta Lab Project Has State Favor

The project to create a state laboratory in the Michigan State Office Building in Escanaba serving the state's laboratory needs in the Upper Peninsula on a consolidated basis appears stalled again.

Escanaba City officials looked for construction of an addition to the State Office Building this year to house the projected laboratory, which would take over the functions of the state laboratories of the Michigan Health Department at Houghton and at Pinecrest Medicare Facility at Powers-Spalding, and also those of the Michigan Department of Agriculture's livestock disease laboratory in Escanaba. Menominee County's representative in the Legislature isn't helping the move because of the transfer of several jobs from Powers to Escanaba but the Houghton representative has been even more vocal in Lansing, opposing the loss of 7 jobs there in the laboratory consolidation.

Opposes Project

Rep. Russell Hellman (D-Houghton) is a member of both the House Appropriations Committee and in a strategic spot to impede the consolidation. The Copper Country area's plea has been that its level of medical service is not high enough and must be elevated and that the state lab at Houghton is an aid in the process.

Delta medical authorities point out that most areas of the U. P. have never had a state laboratory operating locally and that the labs are not intended to support private physician practice directly, but to serve the needs of public health. They say that the whole Upper Peninsula would benefit from the operation of a truly modern central laboratory like the one projected for the State Office Building to serve the entire U. P.

Phased Project

Rep. Charles Varnum (R-Manistique) informed former Mayor Harold Vanlerberghe that the second and third phases of construction at the State Office Building "will be completed as soon as the land is acquired and the funds are received." His letter of Jan. 24 said:

"The first phase (of State Office Building development) was completed with the new heating plant. (Necessitated by ending of city steam service.)

"The second phase is the laboratory addition. For this $7,000 has been allocated for plans, $225,000 appropriated for construction and $50,000 for land acquisition.

"The third phase concerns the enlargement of the office building itself. This has been postponed until the need for state offices has been resolved.

Prospect

"The second and third phases will be completed as soon as the land is acquired and the funds are received. As I understand it, an additional $200,000 is needed to add to the $50,000 appropriated last year for this purpose. Funds for the laboratory itself have already been appropriated but completion of the expansion of the office building itself will call for an additional $500,000.

State Senator Thomas Schweigert (R-Petoskey) wrote to Mayor Vanlerberghe at the same time in almost identical terms and said "the total project will be completed as soon as the land acquisition program has been carried out and the necessary funds are made available."

The owner of the last property needed for the site says that the State Building Division has not approached him on terms for months. The cost will be in the $15,000 range.

City Manager George Harvey said the city's pipeline to Lansing reported that there was peanut politicking going on and no action on the laboratory project.

Department Stand

In this impasse the Daily Press asked Dr. R. Gerald Rice, director of the Michigan Department of Public Health, where the Department stands on the issue of a U. P. state lab. He wrote on June 10:

"The Department's position has been for some time that consolidation of the two Upper Peninsula laboratories would improve the public health laboratory services to the Upper Peninsula by permitting us to offer a wider range of services.

"Let me assure you that the desire to consolidate laboratory services in the Upper Peninsula is not related to any deterioration of services in the laboratories now established. Both laboratories continue to offer quality services for the examinations they perform.

Copper Country Stand

"There has been no reduction of the budget of these laboratories. The problem simply is that it is not practical to introduce some of the more specialized tests needed to increase the range of services offered if the personnel and equipment remains divided in two sites. It is also difficult to maintain satisfactory arrangements for professional coverage for laboratories as small as those at Houghton and Powers.

"It is understandable that the people in the Copper Country do not wish to see the branch laboratory moved from Houghton. The laboratory has been in existence for approximately 50 years, and the community is accustomed to making use of its services.

"A public health laboratory is a useful service in any community. Unfortunately it is not practical from the standpoint of economics and availability of professional personnel to establish a public health laboratory in each community.

"The Department has favored the consolidation of the Upper Peninsula laboratories for several years on the basis that a consolidated laboratory will be able to offer better services to the entire Upper Peninsula. This remains the position of the Department and it hoped that arrangements can be made to implement this consolidation."

300 Quit UAW In Dues Dispute

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—About 300 Bell Helicopter employees have withdrawn from the United Auto Workers union as a result of a lingering dues controversy.

Ray White, Local 218 president, said Wednesday about 300 of the local's 6,500 members resigned June 5.

The dispute stems from a $20 monthly strike assessment imposed on union members by UAW international last October during the Ford Motor Co. strike.

A number of union members opposed the increase, which raised the monthly assessment to $25, and threatened to resign at the time.

They were not eligible to leave the local until June 5, the anniversary of their affiliation.

U.P. Health Lab

Rep. Russell Hellman (D-Houghton) is serving his Copper Country people with less than 20-20 vision, we'd say, in his opposition to the consolidation of the two state health laboratories in the Upper Peninsula.

"Rusty" is a very devoted legislator and he works hard for his district, but let us suggest that it is possible to have these good qualities and to still be wrong. And he's wrong in trying to save a few jobs in the Michigan Department of Public Health laboratory at Houghton. He's in strategic positions in legislative committees to scuttle the laboratory consolidation and he's apparently doing it. What results is not a real benefit for the people of the Copper Country but a disservice, because the purpose of a state laboratory is not to create jobs, but to give services.

The Michigan Department of Public Health wants to merge its U. P. laboratories at Houghton and Powers in a new laboratory in the State Office Building in Escanaba. The projected lab would also serve the needs of the State Department of Agriculture, which operates its livestock disease laboratory in Escanaba.

The Copper Country position of opposition to the merger stresses that it needs the Houghton lab as a health service. The State Health Department, trying to be diplomatic and truthful in the same breath, says it can understand why it wants to keep a service that it has had for 50 years, but it points out politely that the laboratory isn't as good as it should be.

And also that it won't be as good as modern medical science can make it until it's consolidated with the Powers lab.

Dr. G. Gerald Rice, director of the Department of Public Health says "It is not practical to introduce some of the more specialized tests needed to increase the range of services offered if the personnel and equipment remains divided in two sites. It is also difficult to maintain satisfactory arrangements for professional coverage for laboratories as small as those at Houghton and Powers. It is not practical from the standpoint of economics or availability of professional personnel to establish a public health laboratory in each community."

"The Department has favored the consolidation of the Upper Peninsula laboratories for several years on the basis that a consolidated laboratory will be able to offer better services to the entire Upper Peninsula. This remains the position of the Department."

"Rusty" Hellman, who is so devoted to his Copper Country that he drove a used fire truck all the way from Detroit to Copper Harbor to give it to the volunteer fire department there, should back the lab consolidation because it will mean superior laboratory service for his people, and for all the rest of the Upper Peninsula.

As for Rep. Charles Varnum (R-Manistique), he seems to have what Abe Lincoln, criticizing the Union generals for failure to attack Lee, called "the slows" on this lab project. But he's getting no help from his U. P. Democratic colleagues in the Legislature. They're apparently for lab jobs above lab services.

Mr. Walter Cronkite
CBS News
New York, N. Y.

Having witnessed the recent tragic events thrown upon the TV screen by CBS News and other TV broadcasters, I cannot but express my disapproval of much that was shown. To broadcast the news, whether on TV, radio or in newspapers, is, of course, very proper and what the people have a right to expect from the news media.

To portray the news in all its vivid and sordid details, day after day, and many hours of the day, to dwell upon the sordid details of a tragic event, is in my opinion in very poor taste and perhaps very dangerous. It is dangerous because it feeds into the minds of many people, who may be on the lunatic fringe of society, that which may lead them into following the sorry example of the person accused of firing the fatal shots which claimed the life of Senator Robert F. Kennedy and injured several other people.

There is already too much lawlessness in the U. S. and it would seem to me that the news media should proceed very carefully in their portrayal of the news, in order that it may not contribute to greater lawlessness and greater disregard for the sacredness of human life.

To portray the morbid details of a tragic event, hour after hour, day after day, on the TV screen is in my judgment doing a disservice, not only to the bereaved and stricken family, but it creates disgust among viewers. I have talked with many people about their reactions, and they seem to react as I have.

To pursue the matter a bit further it may be said that death is the common denominator that makes all men equal. It intrudes behind the walled palace of the king, as well as the hovel of the king's poorest subject. The prince in his rich robes cannot escape death any more than can the beggar in his rags. It pushes its way into the home of the pauper and into the palatial home of the multimillionaire.

Death assumes various guises. Sometimes it is a welcome guest releasing a person from long pain and suffering. At other times it comes as a thief in the night, unexpected and unwelcome. Sometimes death assumes the cloak of the even-ger, and a man rich or poor, prominent or obscure, may be struck down by a deranged person or by some accident.

Death has taken the lives of 23,000-plus American men in the jungles and rice paddies of South Vietnam in a war which many Americans feel is entirely unjustified. The bare truth is that all men are just as precious in the sight of the Creator and to their loved ones. And it seems to me that it is an unnecessary evil to praise one man to the skies and pay little or no attention to the person who may be of lowly and obscure station in life.

The writer of this letter is no novice in dealing with tragedy and death. He lacks only four years in a half century of service to his church and to his community, during which time he has officiated at more than 1,500 funerals.

UNION

As a member of UAW Local 632 I feel I must take pen in hand and answer the letters of the people whom I feel have no concern in this matter at all. This is my own opinion and in no way involves union officials or other members.

We all know how we are affected by a strike; we do not have to be told over and over by other people. But we feel we must fight for our rights and that's what we are doing.

I feel this matter does not concern people in Marquette or other areas. I am also under the impression that the letter writers are former employees and Local 632 members. Well, if things were so good, why did they leave P&H?

As for the voting bit, I do not feel our union's president owes anyone not in our union an explanation. We were not told how to vote and could have voted against a strike just as well as for a strike.

I'm sure when our bargaining committee has something to offer worthwhile to our members, that they will be more than happy to do so. Until that time comes I feel this rich is strictly between the P&H Co., union officials and members. So please stop running our union down.

And to all our bargaining committees, I feel you are doing a fine job, and I feel that most of our members feel the same way. Keep up the good work.

Bobby Recalled As Warm, Considerate

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The first time I ever saw Robert F. Kennedy was in a big barn of a place on Boston's Water Street, which was serving as campaign headquarters for his brother, John, who was running in 1952 for the U. S. Senate seat then held by Henry Cabot Lodge.

Then 26 years old but looking as boyish as a high school senior, he stood in khaki trousers and open white shirt with sleeves rolled up, talking crisply and knowledgeably of the campaign he was directing.

At that moment, in a warm Boston summer, he seemed hardly believable in so big a role. Yet it was a part in his brother's life that he was marked to play in an ever-larger way as John Kennedy won re-election to the Senate in 1958 and went on to gain the presidency in 1960.

Like many other reporters, I had long private conversations with him over the years when he was managing campaigns, serving as U. S. Attorney General or as senator from New York.

At conversational range, he was invariably co-operative and considerate. The impatient drumming of fingers on desk which aides observed as he talked to some visitors was seldom seen when he sat in the company of newsmen, most of whom he liked just as had his late brother.

Under questioning, he sometimes would stare a long while in silence as he thought hard about an answer. When an interview seemed to have run its course, he would ask quietly:

"Is that enough? Do you have what you want?"

Any reporter who covered national politics found people asking him again and again "what Bobby Kennedy is really like." Many who answered clearly surprised their interrogators by describing him as a compassionate, kind man.

That he was. He often went far out of his way to be helpful.

It was he, as a kind of family director, that I had to deal with in mid-1963 when I undertook a series of articles about the many Kennedy youngsters.

At first he was reluctant to approve the idea, since he did not want the children's privacy invaded and, besides, he feared there were already too many stories about the very large number of Kennedys.

Finally he agreed. He could simply have advised me of his decision and left to me all arrangements with the family. Instead, I was told to call his elder sister, Eunice, at a particular hour at the famed Kennedy compound in Hyannisport, Mass. When I reached her, she responded warmly and said:

"Oh, yes, by brother Bobby just called me and told me you would be phoning. When would you like to come over?"

A few days later, back in Washington, I called Kennedy's secretary to explain that I still had one big problem—I had not been able to learn anything about the four children of his sister, Mrs. Patricia Lawford, who were in California. Minutes later I was advised to call Mrs. Lawford at her Santa Monica home, where she would be waiting to hear from me. Once again, it went this way: "Yes, my brother Bobby just called and asked me to help you. What do you want to know?"

Secretaries could easily have managed these contacts, but Bob Kennedy chose to make them himself, despite his genuine reservations about the story.

His sense of good fun was immense, though it did not really become widely visible until nearly a year after his brother's assassination. Even then, as he was running for the Senate in New York in 1964, it alternated with periods of great gloom when he would stare vacantly out of a plane window for a half hour at a time.

Tired as he was this spring from incessant campaigning in a half a dozen primaries, he kept his arduous days in Oregon and California. I, like other newsmen, occasionally became the object of his fun.

When, in Oregon, I suddenly found myself crammed into a seat at a press table at Portland's City Club, I did not have a chance to take off a light raincoat I was wearing. On his way to the speaker's table, Kennedy passed close by and took note.

He reached out, grabbed my raincoat at the top and pulled it down over my shoulders almost to the elbows. He laughed and said: "Stay! What are you going to try to do, leave early?"

Late the next evening, in a San Francisco ballroom just as warm as the one in Portland, I had on the same coat as he again passed close. He broke into a big grin, took the coat by the collar and said:

"Hey Bruce, I don't believe you with your raincoat!" A few days afterward, outside the same Ambassador Hotel where he was fatally shot in the early minutes of June 5, a Kennedy motorcade was forming up for a long day's campaigning in southern California. He emerged with his springer spaniel, Freckles, who promptly scampered off into the shrubbery.

After two summons, the dog trotted toward the senator's car. I waved him on with a sweeping gesture. Kennedy laughed, came over and put his hand on my shoulder. He asked:

"Would you take care of the dog today?"

At San Diego hours later, he playfully suggested there might be an ambassadorship in it for anyone who consented to keep watch on Freckles.

On the sunny morning of May 21, Bob Kennedy was shaking hands on a brief walk through the Farmers' Market in Los Angeles. There was an instant of good fun when someone noticed that Jerry Bruno, a Kennedy "advance man" noted for his toughness, was observed carrying a toy baseball bat. The senator chuckled when a reporter asked:

"Isn't that a little to obvious for a ruthless man?" The walking tour ended quickly. I watched as he piled into his car for a trip to the airport and more campaigning in northern California and Oregon. I had no way of knowing it was the last time I would see alive the arresting, driving, controversial young man I had first met in that barren warehouse in Boston 16 years ago.

Our purchasing agent is a man of few words. So far as we can determine, he knows only three: "NO," and "Positively not."

Anyone who longs for an automatic watch is welcome to our nosy neighbor's attentions.

The next time you object to the doctor's fee, recall—you're still around to pay it, aren't you?

Opening lead—♠ 10

The use of a two-club opening as a catch-all strong hand is almost universal in expert circles. Sometimes it shows a regular suit two bid, but most of the time it shows a 23- or 24-point no-trump hand. South's two-club call was in that class.

North's two - diamond response was a general negative and his three-club bid merely asked if South could show a four-card major suit. It didn't take all this gadgetry to reach three no-trump. Any two players would be likely to find their way to that spot.

They would also be very likely to make the contract. All South has to do is to concede one spade and wind up with three spades and two tricks in each other suit, but at the table West came up with a defensive coup that caused South to wind up with only seven tricks.

It wasn't done with mirrors—just by means of an unusual falsecard. The queen of clubs was played from dummy at trick one, and East's king fell to South's ace. South led his five of spades and West played the queen!

South made the correct play of ducking in dummy. West led a second club. South ducked that lead and won the next club. Then South led a low diamond. West won with the jack and cashed his good club while East discarded a heart. Then West led a second diamond.

South won and played his other high diamond to see if that suit would break. West had already taken four tricks, so he could afford to throw a heart away.

Now South led the ace and his last low spade. West followed with the three and nine and the time for decision had arrived. South thought awhile. He realized that something might well be going on, but it surely looked as if West had started with four spades to the queen-jack. South played the ten from dummy, and instead of making three spade tricks wound up with only one.

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:
West North East South
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♥
2 N.T. Pass 3 ♦
Pass 3 N.T. Pass ?

You, South, hold:
♠ A 4 ♥ K J 9 3 ♦ K 6 5 ♣ K 10 8 7

What do you do now?
A—Bid four no-trump. This is semi-Blackwood in that your partner may choose to show aces or just to treat your bid as a strong no-trump call.

TODAY'S QUESTION
He does bid five spades to show three aces. What do you do now?

Answer Tomorrow
Young Tad Lincoln once invited a group of street urchins into the White House to share his Christmas dinner. The cook tried to shoot them away, but Tad appealed to his father, who said they could stay.

Ann Landers

So, Resign; No Job Is Worth An Ulcer

Dear Ann Landers: I am a middle-aged man who works in a small but successful company. The boss is a jet-propelled, high-powered executive who is subject to a lot of pressure. I sympathize with the guy but I am beginning to think he is a sadist.

When things are going smoothly he is the sweetest guy in the world. When things don't go well he is unbelievably brutal. I happen to be the boss's Number One whipping boy and it is getting me down. When he beats on me I beat on my family. I realize this is unfair and I hate myself for it.

I joined the company five years ago with high hopes for a brilliant future. The money is excellent but I'm beginning to wonder if it's worth it. Last December I spent two weeks in the hospital with a bleeding ulcer. Yesterday I got my third migraine headache in a month.

Is it possible to fight this problem? If so, how?—MORE SICK THAN WELL
Dear More: The best way to fight this problem is with your pen. Write a letter of resignation. No job is worth ulcers and migraine. I have yet to see a Brink's money wagon in a funeral procession.

Dear Ann Landers: I've been going with Richie for two years. We have been engaged and disengaged so many times I've lost count. We argue constantly about religion, friends, which movie to see, which TV channel to watch, where to eat and every kind of nonsense you can think of.

Rich and I don't get along with each other worth a darn, but we don't seem to get along without each other, either. I keep telling myself marriage will solve our problems because there will be more time to settle things properly. What about it?—V.C.
Dear V. C.: There will also be more time to fight—which is probably what you'd be doing.

The basic ingredient for a successful marriage is friendship. Where there is continual bickering and arguing, there can be no friendship. Tell Rich "good-bye and good luck" and resolve to base your next selection on what you can share, not what you can fight about.

Dear Ann Landers: I am 15. My sister Ellen is 11 months younger. Ever since I can remember we have gotten exactly the same things—same allowance, same privileges, same curfew. Every time I get a new dress, Ellen gets one. When I get a new pair of shoes, so does Ellen.

Mom used to buy us identical clothes. People thought we were twins. When we'd go dressed in the morning, Ellen would put on her dress like mine and I'd change into something else. I hated it.

I have a sister 17 and we get along fine. I know it is wrong but I find myself hating Ellen. I cry a lot because I get so angry I don't know what else to do. Can you help me?—WET PILLOW
Dear W. P.: Nobody wants to be a carbon copy of someone else.

Stop hating your sister. It's your mother who made the mistake. And don't hate her, either. She made the mistake out of ignorance. Go to your mother today and tell her you are issuing a declaration of independence. No more clothes alike. Pursue different interests. If Ellen is in the orchestra, be in the band. If Ellen is on the school paper, join the yearbook staff. If your sister insists on imitating you, there is nothing you can do. But rest assured you will be the real McCoy and she will be the imitation.

When romantic glances turn to warm embraces is it love or chemistry? Send for the booklet "Love Or Sex and How To Tell the Difference," by Ann Landers. Enclose a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 35 cents in coin with your request.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

500,000 Cords of Wood Offered

No Bidding Here In Borealis Sale

No bids were received Wednesday when the U. S. Forest Service offered 500,000 cords of wood in the Hiawatha National Forest in its Borealis timber sale.

The sale had been requested by large wood-using industries as a federal government forest commitment to a long range, large volume cutting program to encourage industrial commitments in this region. The wood offered was surplus to that now being produced and sold by the big forest, which extends from Escanaba to Sault Ste. Marie and covers more than 800,000 acres.

To Be Renewed
The big 15-year cutting program offered in the sale was designed to strengthen the wood industry economy of the Upper Peninsula, said Al Trout, forest supervisor, but it became a victim itself of the sagging pulp and paper industry economy.

The short-run pulp wood surplus of U. P. and especially Wisconsin pulp mills (Most U. P. pulpwood is sold in Wisconsin), weakened chances of selling the timber at this time.

Industry spokesmen said that the sale, although stymied currently by wood surpluses, is well conceived and that they hoped the wood would be made available later, when the present temporary glut is used up.

"This does not mean that the sale or the sale idea has been abandoned," said Trout. "On the contrary, as George James, regional federal forester for this 20 state area recently said: 'The mill companies are looking for voids, looking for areas where the available wood manufacturing capacity does not use up the resource. The Upper Peninsula is one of these and it is being watched.' Industry is actively interested and presently conducting studies for expansion in this area."

Jobs Lost

"If this timber offering had sold on Wednesday it would have increased the U. P. employment base potential by over 600 full time, continuing jobs. However, in any effort of this size some setbacks are expected. We are not abandoning efforts to strengthen our local economy by drawing new industry into the area. The wood still is available to any qualified purchaser."

The wood was offered in an oral auction with sealed bids of at least $9,000 required to get into the bidding.

The species of woods offered, their volumes and the appraised minimum bid per cord (or in the case of yellow birch and mixed hardwoods, per thousand board feet) were:

Aspen, paper birch and balsam of gilead, 253,000 cords, $1.46.

Mixed hardwoods 97,000 cords, $2.62.

Balsam-Fir — 64,000 cords, $2.60.

Spruce & Tamarack 36,000 cords, $6.64.

Hemlock, 18,000 cords, $2.49.

Pine, 13,000 cords, $5.72.

Yellow Birch 4,200 MBM, $66.35.

Mixed hardwoods, 5,300 MBM, $17.91.

Largest Offering

It was the largest stumpage offering from a government forest in Northern Michigan in history. The Ottawa National Forest in the western U. P. in its "Giant Step" sale moved 45,000 cords of wood, all aspen, in 1966 to the Nagel Lumber Co. of Land O' Lakes, Wis., in a 10-year cutting program. An 18,000 cord sale just advertised by the Ottawa did not sell.

Eighty per cent of the volume of wood offered is in the Chippewa and Mackinac districts at the easternmost U. P., where the largest U. P. wood surplus results from the distance from the Wisconsin wood market.

Urban Leaders Shun Cavanagh War Ending Plea

CHICAGO (AP) — A proposal by Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh that President Johnson intensify his efforts to end the Vietnam war was narrowly defeated Wednesday night at a meeting of urban leaders.

Mayor Cavanagh, in Chicago for the 35th annual United States Conference of Mayors, called upon president Johnson to "intensify his efforts to end the conflict (Vietnam war) which drains $30 billion a year from our vital needs."

The proposal was offered as an amendment to a resolutions committee recommendation that the federal government undertake massive spending recommended in the Kerner Commission report. The committee praised the report issued in March by the commission headed by former Gov. Otto Kerner of Illinois, now a federal judge.

The resolution called on the government to act in an "unprecedented effort" to solve ghetto problems.

Campus Radicals Plan To Spark Labor Revolution

that society will be determined by men shaping their own lives. But we know this—capitalism will have to go.

And Hari Dillon, cochairman of the San Francisco State College SDS chapter, predicts the off-campus organizing efforts will spawn violence.

"As the student movement gets stronger and stronger and makes ties with the community," Dillon said, "those in power are going to smash down harder. They're not going to give up without violence."

As a guide for radical organizers, the SDS national office is distributing a 36-page document that suggests projects concentrate on "a distinguishable subculture in America... the poor, transitional, working class whites."

The document adds: "We are talking about a large portion of the South's 40 million white people, who work in places like Durham, Birmingham, Memphis, Chattanooga, Nashville and Lawrenceburg; people in the Appalachian and border cities: Asheville, Knoxville, Wheeling, Beckley, Huntington, Charleston, Evansville, Indianapolis, Youngstown, Cincinnati, St. Louis..."

"... People in Northern cities like Detroit, Benton Harbor, Flint, Cleveland, Columbus, Hammond and Chicago; Midwest and Southwestern cities like Kansas City, Topeka, Oklahoma City, Tulsa, Omaha, Wichita, Houston and Dallas and... people who now live in Los Angeles, Bakersfield, Stockton, San Jose, Fremont, Oakland, Richmond and Sacramento."

To reach the target population, it suggests "men and women could work in factories where neighborhood people work; women could become waitresses in local cafes or retail clerks in local stores; men could work at the local gas station."

And it adds that organizers should try to make friends at "bars, pool halls, cafes, laundromats, service stations, small stores" because "it will be easier if the organizer understands the community and they trust him—someone who lives in the same place, works a similar job and has mutual friends can't be that bad or kooky."

The document concludes by exhorting radicals to "confront white America: give poor and working people an alternative... build for the revolution—it's out there."

But in Chicago, Bruce Pohlmann has discovered what SDS members can expect when they try to sell ideas like these to the average worker.

Pohlmann, a thin 18-year-old youth with just a trace of a mustache, said he got a job in a hot dog stand and started talking to fellow workers about racism and the war in Vietnam.

Their reactions surprised him. "That job didn't last long," Pohlmann said. "Things got so tough I had to quit."

Now, he said, he has a new job unloading paper at a printing company. And he has a new strategy: "I'm not going to push any issues until I'm ready. I've decided to be very cool and easy about it."

By ALAN HOWARD

"When I arrived in the United States I was surprised to see that grandparents don't live with families," replied Miss Prapipun Ittigul when asked of her first impressions of this country.

"In our country," responded her friend Kiat Kosaisuntorn, "we rely on seniority."

Kosaisuntorn and Miss Ittigul, graduate students from Thailand now attending Michigan State University, are visiting Escanaba this week as the guests of Sandy Baum, 623 S. 8th St., and Linda Butler, 1824 S. 9th St., who befriended the pair this year during their attendance at the Spartan campus.

From Bangkok Area

It is not difficult to understand the women's interest in the visiting Thais, who are both working for masters degrees in social science, a field encompassing anthropology, psychology and education. Both from the area of Bangkok, they admittedly take pleasure in recounting, in very articulate English, the customs of their homeland and their feelings about their host country.

Kosaisuntorn, who, according to Buddhist tradition, will fill a three-month tenure as a monk upon his return home before entering secular life, admitted that he will most likely marry later than a typical American man, because a bridegroom in Thailand must provide a cash dowry to the father of his bride-to-be. Two thousand dollars is not an unusual sum. But he won't amass such funds as a monk, he remarked, because each novice must make his living begging in the streets during this "rite de passage" which Thais call "Buddhist Lent."

No Religious Obligation
Miss Ittigul, however, faces no religious obligation upon her return home one year from now. Yet she is concerned about what the condition of her homeland may be. She and Kosaisuntorn support the U.S. presence in Vietnam and fear that an American pullout there would increase the threat of an invasion from Red China.

When asked about her impressions of Americans and their treatment of her, Miss Ittigul responded that her professors at MSU allow "more democracy in class" — a chance "to discuss and argue." Speaking of Escanaba she said, "we feel at home when we stay here." Kosaisuntorn, too, commended the "hospitality and informal atmosphere" of the people of this area. They also expressed a desire to attend church during their stay here.

Way Of Life Intrigues

The visiting students express a great interest in America's way of life, as its influence is felt in all areas of the globe. Western architecture stands side-by-side with oriental design in Thailand, and basketball is popular, though it does not approach the enthusiasm which Thais afford their national sport, "rattennball," which appears to be a combination of soccer and volleyball, or "Thai boxing," which incorporates the rules of boxing and wrestling. Explaining this mixture of influences in her country, Miss Ittigul jokingly remarked, "we take the best from the Americans and leave the worst."

Upon receiving their degrees Miss Ittigul, known to her friends as "Tue," and Kosaisuntorn, both age 28, will eventually assume positions in the Thai government involving textbook production and curriculum improvement for elementary and secondary schools. They will doubtless return with a complex impression of the United States and its people — an amalgam of positive and negative feelings toward their host country for two years. It is hoped that the courtesy they were shown while visiting Escanaba will be a factor adding to the bridge of understanding between our peoples.

Boating Safety Course Offered

Enrollments for a State of Michigan pleasure boating safety course are being accepted by the Delta County Sheriff's Dept.

Sheriff Harold O. Finman said the course will be taught by Robert Dunstone, county marine deputy, who is an instructor certified by the Department of Conservation's Board and Water Safety section. Dates and times of the course will be announced.

Registrations are being accepted at the Sheriff's Office in the county jail or by calling 786-3633.

The free course is designed primarily for the beginning boatman and includes information on selecting the boat and motor, safety afloat, boat handling, Michigan laws and regulations and first aid. Anyone interested in boating is welcome.

The course consists of a five-hour study course and there is no charge either for the instruction or materials. All completing the course will receive certification of completion and also a pocket-sized certificate to carry when operating a boat.

Michigan law requires that all persons between the ages of 12 and 16 complete a certified boating safety course to legally operate a motorboat with over a six horsepower motor.

Start Arbitration Over I 696 Route

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Department has started arbitration proceedings in an attempt to settle a four and one-half year dispute that has delayed construction of part of I 696 across southern Oakland and Macomb counties.

The department is moving under a new state law which authorizes binding arbitration of disputes over interstate routes that cannot be settled by negotiations.

"We take this step with great reluctance and only as a last resort," said Highway Commission Chairman Charles Hewitt of Detroit.

Prep

Mrs. Irene Olson Files Petitions For Treasurer

Mrs. Leonard (Irene) Olson, 627 S. 17th St., today filed petitions for nomination to the office of County Treasurer on the Republican ticket.

Mrs. Olson, born in Cornell, has been a resident of the Escanaba area all of her life and is well known in the community. She is presently employed in the business office of the Escanaba Area public schools.

Arthur Neiman, chairman of the County Republican committee, said today that the committee is "delighted to have Mrs. Olson as a candidate."

He said the party is trying to bring back a two-party system of government to Delta County.

Mrs. Olson is the first candidate to announce for the position of treasurer. Incumbent, Anne S. Villeneuve, a Democrat, has indicated she will not seek reelection.

Deadline for filing nominating petitions is 4 p.m. Tuesday, June 18. Party candidates for the November election will be elected at the Aug. 6 primary.

Mrs. Olson was born in Cornell, the daughter of the late Chris Thompson, who with his brother founded Thompson Transfer Co. Her mother is Mrs. John Dagenais Sr., of Escanaba, who remarried after her father's death.

A 1930 graduate of Escanaba High School, Mrs. Olson was employed at the State Bank of Escanaba for about 6½ years after completing her education. She later joined Liberty Loan Corp. for three years, then returned to the State Bank before accepting a position with the Area school district two years ago.

Economic Project To Be Located In Escanaba

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Congressman Philip Ruppe (R-Michigan) announced Wednesday that Escanaba has been chosen as a site for a new economic development target area program by the Small Business Administration.

The Escanaba program, aimed at the entire Upper Peninsula, will be one of only 16 of its kind in the nation, Ruppe said. A special three-man SBA team will be assigned to Escanaba with one member of the team being a local resident.

Purpose of the team will be to harness SBA and other federal agency resources to aid in the creation of small manufacturing and wholesale-type enterprises. These enterprises will be owned, operated and managed by resident citizens and are expected to improve the "balance of payments" in the area by exporting goods and services outside the area while bringing dollars into the area.

SBA contacts will be directly with target area residents and local community organizations. State and local authorities and elements of private business also will be included in the combined public and private effort.

Detroit was the only other Michigan city selected as a site for the program.

Poor Marchers In Hunger Vigil

WASHINGTON (AP) — In their first demonstration in more than a week, Poor People's Campaign leaders appeared to be trying Wednesday to get their sometimes wandering protests back on target.

About 350 persons, buoyed by pep talks, marched on the Department of Agriculture to begin a round-the-clock vigil protesting hunger in America.

Discipline wasn't perfect. Park police said they arrested two youths who broke away from the march and tried to haul down an American flag near the Washington Monument.

But there were many indications of the sharper focus the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, campaign leader, said he would try to work into demonstrations.

Speeches were few, and stuck closely to the point at issue—food.

As Abernathy complained that the responses Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman has made have been "pitifully inadequate to meet the hunger crisis," the Interior Department issued a permit for the June 19 mass rally here in support of the campaign.

Sterling Tucker, named director of the march and rally just four days ago, told reporters a realistic goal for participants would be something under 100,000.

Although a list of speakers has not yet been decided, he said, Mrs. Martin Luther King Jr., widow of the slain civil rights leader who conceived the Poor People's Campaign, will probably be among them.

A group of about 100 women, all residents of Resurrection City, had Capitol police worried for a bit when they left the march around the Agriculture Department to stage their own march on Capitol Hill.

Police had to separate them into three groups to comply with a law forbidding mass demonstrations on the Capitol grounds, and they prevented individuals from wandering off on their own, as tourists may do.

But before their hour-long visit ended, the women were singing freedom songs and "America the Beautiful" without interference from police. The last time a Poor People's Campaign group tried to sing on the Capitol grounds, 18 of them were arrested.

State Soldiers Killed In Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Royal Oak Marine was among 39 servicemen killed in action recently in Vietnam, the Defense Department announced Wednesday.

He was Lance Cpl. Donald H. Hartness, son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Hartness of Royal Oak. The department also announced a Lansing soldier, Pfc. Lee R. Bush, has now been listed as dead as a result of hostile action. Bush, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard L. Bush, had previously been listed as missing.

Romney Praises Dr. Feinsinger

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney has commended labor mediator Dr. Nathan Feinsinger for his plea for a revision of collective bargaining laws.

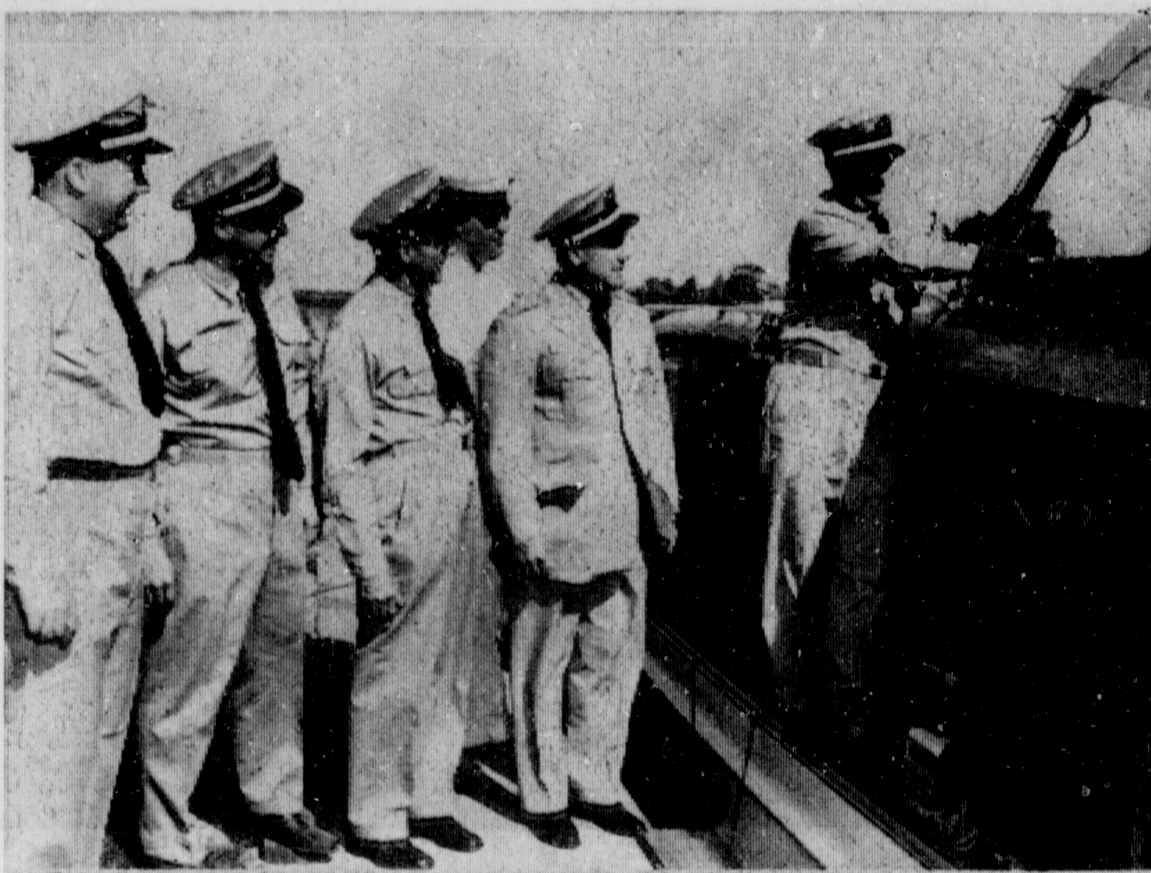

But, the governor said, "I think his optimism is a little excessive" for a quick end to the Detroit newspaper strike.

Feinsinger earlier had been criticized by Romney for his efforts to settle the strike.

Feinsinger recently called for changes in collective bargaining laws following meetings with union and management representatives of the Detroit Free Press and Detroit News.

"I'm pleased that he has arrived at this conclusion that tends to confirm my own judgment," Romney said at a news conference. "I think a review of collective bargaining laws in this country is long overdue."

The governor said the concentration of power in the hands of a few is indefensible when it nullifies the public interest.

FLOTILLA 28-8 of the Coast Guard Auxiliary in Escanaba has started a courtesy program of boat inspections in the area. The flotilla, whose prime function is promotion of boating safety, works under the jurisdiction of the 9th Coast Guard district. Any boat owner interested in a courtesy inspection should call 786-2262 or 786-2279. Boats in Escanaba and Gladstone will be examined. (Daily Press Photo)

Romney Praises Legislature For Accomplishments

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney has saluted members of the Legislature for writing "a record of accomplishment matched by few other legislatures in Michigan's history."

Passage of the Fair Housing Act was the hallmark of the legislative session, Romney said at a morning news conference. "I believe this Legislature has responded with courage and a real recognition of the human, social and economic needs of our state," Romney said.

In addition to the Fair Housing Act signed into law Tuesday, Romney cited as items of major importance the $435-million clean water and recreation bonding programs, reorganization of Michigan's lower court system, the insurance pool for high risk property, riot control bills and the tenant's rights bill.

"The principal failing of this session was the inability to deal with the obvious problems resulting from labor tensions in the field of public employment," the governor added.

"We had sought to strengthen the Public Employees Act so as to have better means of averting future showdowns on essential public services due to labor disputes," he said. "We also had requested the establishment of an automatic opening day for our schools so as to permit a measurement of when teachers are or are not on strike."

Although several appropriations bills are still in conference committee, Romney said, "It appears obvious that the budget will fulfill the hopes expressed at the start of the session—a responsible budget meeting the basic needs of our state without sacrificing essential services, without going into debt and without requiring new taxes."

On another matter, Romney urged Wayne County residents to select a sheriff "who is above suspicion."

Peter Buback, former Wayne County sheriff who recently resigned, announced last week that he would seek reelection.

Buback stepped down following investigations into an alleged ticket fixing scandal.

Romney said Buback "used every legal means to prevent the probate judge from holding hearings" regarding the matter. Rather than appear before a grand juror, Romney said, Buback resigned.

Campus Radicals Set Up Blackout On News

EAST LANSING (AP)—Citing what they term press "lies," Students for a Democratic Society have clamped a near-tight lid on many sessions at their national convention at Michigan State University.

But about 20 members apparently are trying to fight what some consider a bad image. At the same time they hope to build up public interest in SDS, which seeks to organize students and workers against "The Establishment."

The 20, many representatives of the underground (movement) media, voted Wednesday to submit for organization support a resolution that calls for:

—SDS national, regional and chapter leaders to grant interviews on organization theory and activities to the mass media "at their discretion."

—Assign a person or committee to act as liaison with the mass media "when media interest is heightened" by such events as the recent disorders at Columbia University.

—Publicize to the mass media news of projects undertaken by local and regional groups.

—Discussions with journalists about the "alienating characteristics of their work" and the oppressive nature of their institutions.

The resolution, for which sponsors said they held little optimism, says it should be taken for granted that the mass media is "economically tied to the ruling class and ultimately serves its purpose."

It calls also for development and improvement of the "radical media."

However, the measure states, the mass media reaches large numbers of people and could be used to "expand the political consciousness" of those it touches. SDS "must learn to use (the media) in our struggle," it says.

The resolution may not be passed, backers said, because of "tremendous hostility to the commercial press and basic mistrust."

Students complain they have been misquoted and that the press has distorted their activities in favor of "the system, the ruling imperialists." Many of the complaints stem from coverage of the recent disorders at Columbia University.

Players Plan 8 Play Season

"Keweenaw Playhouse, Calumet, will have a series of eight plays this season and will be using a series of budget-reducing techniques," says James F. Hamilton, president of the Playhouse board of directors.

Fletcher Johnson, executive director of the Playhouse, recently returned from New York where he obtained a director and a staff of actors for the season. "We also intend to put a new emphasis on local participation in Keweenaw Playhouse," Johnson added. He said that 42 per cent of the people working with the playhouse last year were from the Copper Country. Local auditions will be announced in the near future, he added.

The season will open July 2 with "The Odd Couple." Other plays for the season include three musicals, "Little Mary Sunshine," "The Boy Friend," and "The Fantasticks." Dramatic plays are to be "The Mousetrap," "A Thousand Clowns," "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf," and "Any Wednesday."

The number of players required for the season has been cut from 38 to 22, Johnson said, effecting payroll savings. Other costs have also been reduced.

A new community relations committee has been named to aid the Playhouse. Members are Donald Ogden, president of Houghton National Bank; Houghton; William P. Nicholls, vice president of Copper Range Co.; Houghton; Emerson P. Barrett, director of employe and community relations for Calumet & Hecla, Inc.; Calumet; Herman Gundlach, Herman Gundlach, Inc.; Houghton; and Kenneth D. Calery is a city commissioner of the Sault and a member of the Chippewa County Board of Supervisors.

The incumbent representative is Charles Varnum, Republican, of Manistowish, serving his first term after long tenure in the office, (though not all of the big new district), by Rep. Einar Erlandsen of Escanaba, Democrat.

Stocks Higher; Volume Is Up

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market boomed higher in a near-record first hour for volume today.

Turnover was 6.29 million shares for the first 60 minutes, just below the May 3 record of 6,339,000 shares.

The ticker tape ran as fast as seven minutes late before beginning to catch up.

An accumulation of demand built up during the Wednesday recess was one big reason for the market strength, brokers said. The markets were closed Wednesday to allow brokerage firms to catch up with their logjam of paperwork due to heavy trading.

Gains outnumbered losses by more than 2 to 1, and the Dow Jones Industrial Average was up about 3 points.

Gains exceeding a point were made by such stocks as General Motors, du Pont, Uniroyal, General Dynamics and General Electric.

Williams Says He's No Expert On Philippines

HILO, Hawaii (AP)—G. Menen Williams, who leaves Honolulu today to take up duties as ambassador to the Philippines, conceded Wednesday he is no expert on the Pacific island republic.

Neither, he said in a news conference at the Peace Corps Training Center at Hilo, was he an expert on Africa when he accepted an assignment as Assistant Secretary of State for African Affairs in the Kennedy administration.

But he said he had experience as multi-term governor of Michigan in the same areas that concern these new nations, economic development, education and boosting the standard of living.

Jobs Are Key To Cooling Unrest In Big City Cores

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — After this western Michigan city was hit by racial flareups two summers in a row, a group of industrialists set up a 24-member committee. One of its main tasks: getting jobs for the unemployed.

Called the Area Resources Improvement Council, the group wasted no time in getting its program under way.

After the first few months, more than 300 hard-core adult "unemployables" had been placed on jobs and another program aimed at providing at least 200 summer jobs for ghetto-teen-agers was well along.

Success Scored
Benton Harbor's program has scored an 80 to 85 per cent success in keeping its men employed, says Ronald Sondee, ARIC executive director. He explains that it took several levels of counseling and understanding to make the program work and keep the retention rate high.

"We've had fellows failing to show up for work or quitting," Sondee said. After visits or phone calls from counselors, "we've sent them back two or three times to try to keep them on the job," he added.

Unemployment High
Detroit's riot last July was unique in that many of those arrested already had jobs. But surveys have shown that unemployment among the rioters was far higher than the national average. Among Negroes just out of school, the unemployment rate ran as much as four times higher than for whites.

The New Detroit Committee, created to coordinate the city's postriot rebuilding efforts, recognized unemployment and employment problems as needed.

ing its most careful and immediate attention.

Detroit's program saw the hiring of an estimated 12,000 hard-core "unemployables" in the first nine months after the July disturbance. Most of the jobs were in auto plants.

Civic and business leaders in other parts of the state looked around them and decided that they, too, should do something.

"It was apparent that a crash program was needed if more riots were to be averted," says Joseph Van Blooy, president of the Greater Grand Rapids Chamber of Commerce.

Need New Standards
In Grand Rapids, the job-finding campaign was dubbed "Project 1003," aimed at providing work for 1,000 ghetto-dwellers in three months. Although the deadline had to be extended several weeks, the project finally came up with 1,053 jobs, ranging from manual labor in stockrooms and warehouses to clerical positions. Employers in many cases are asked to adopt a new set of standards overlooking such things as minor physical problems, semi-illiteracy, police records and low educational achievement.

Flag Day Friday, JUNE 14

MAYBE IT'S TIME WE ALL DID A LITTLE FLAG-WAVING!

HOW TO DISPLAY THE FLAG

Respect should always be shown for the flag and the following practices are recommended: The flag should always be raised and lowered by hand. It should be displayed only between sunrise and sunset. When raising the flag, it should be unfurled first. Do not raise the flag while it is furled. After unfurling, hoist it quickly to the top of the staff. When lowered, it should be done slowly and with dignity. When the flag is displayed other than being flown from a staff, it should be displayed flat, whether indoors or out. When displayed in a window, it should be displayed with the stars uppermost and to the flag's own right (to the left of the observer). It should not be allowed to touch the ground or floor, nor to brush against objects. Place no objects on or over the flag and do not use the flag as part of a costume or uniform.

Too often we tend to leave the patriotic displays to just a few civic-minded Americans. Are we leaving the decisions to just a few, too? Maybe it's time we remembered that we all have a stake in this country's destiny. Displaying the flag is more than just an expression of love of country, it's a sign that we believe in the principles upon which that country was founded. Let's proclaim our Americanism by flying the Stars and Stripes and let's live our Americanism by participating in America's great democracy.

Quebec, Hottest Issue In Canada

MONTREAL (AP) — The hottest issue in Canada's current political campaign is the Quebec question, and it's apt to get hotter before the June 25 election.

Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau, a French-Canadian, has stirred the fire of Quebec separatists and of more moderate Quebec leaders by his tough stand on the future status of the French-speaking province.

He apparently is staking his political life on the assumption that most Canadians, including a substantial number of Quebec residents, want to maintain a strong federal government rather than yield powers to give Quebec a special status in the confederation.

Robert Stanfield, leader of the Conservative party, has accused the 48-year-old Liberal leader of dividing the country and of "trying to turn English Canada against Quebec." Trudeau denies this and accuses the Conservatives of speaking with two voices—one for Quebec and one for the rest of Canada.

Trudeau's firm adherence to federalism is no surprise. He spoke out repeatedly on the issue before he was chosen last April to succeed Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson. His election was made possible by a substantial bloc of votes from the Quebec delegation.

It was on Trudeau's initiative that the Quebec issue was injected into the present campaign. From the outset he brushed aside suggestions that this question was too inflammatory and should be put on the shelf for postelection negotiations.

The results of his decision have been mixed. Outside French Canada his stand has been cheered. Just how this will pay off in the election is not so certain. In most of the prairie provinces, the Atlantic provinces and British Columbia the Liberals haven't done well in recent years and, at best, could only be expected to pick up scattered parliamentary seats. The voters in these provinces may be more influenced by other issues, such as inflation, unemployment and wheat surpluses.

On The Sidelines

With Mike Utt

Jack Smith, a member of the Highland Golf Club, will play in the Swan Lake Invitational golf tournament at the Swan Lake Country Club in Clarksville, Tenn. The tournament is a pro-am affair.

Ironman Bill Groleau, pitcher for the Teamsters of the Escanaba Softball Association, pitched both games of a doubleheader against teams from Iron Mountain Saturday night. The Teamsters lost the opener, 5-2, to Edward's Chevrolet and won the finale over Jacob Motors, 9-1.

The Felch Rangers and Stephenson, the only two unbeaten teams in the Wishigan Baseball League, meet Sunday at Felch. Felch defeated Menominee, 10-5, Sunday to keep their perfect record intact.

Bob Wills, pitching for Wisconsin National Life of Ne-gaunee, won his 13th game of the season Sunday night as WNL defeated Woody's Bar of Ishpeming, 2-1. The fire-balling left-hander struck out nine batters enroute to the victory.

Upper Peninsula golfers are invited to attend the 36-hole Best Ball Tournament June 15 and 16 at the Pine Grove Country Club in Iron Mountain. An 18-hole qualifying round will be played Saturday and the qualifying score will be added with Sunday's 18-hole score.

The new number eight hole at the Highland Country Club, which measures 420 yards, was found to be very difficult by the golfers participating in the Highland Open Golf Tournament this past weekend, as only two golfers in 356 attempts were able to pick up a birdie 3.

Classy Billy Smith of Sault Ste. Marie picked up birdies on holes No. 1, 2, 6 and 9, enroute to his 31 score in Saturday's qualifying rounds in the Highland Open. Smith's score was the lowest shot on the present nine hole layout.

Plante Returns To Play Hockey

MONTREAL (AP) — Two de-fensemen brothers — Wayne and Larry Hillman, were ob-tained by the same team and longtime great goaltender Jacques Plante is returning to the National Hockey League as a result of action at the circuits annual meetings here.

Plante acquired the Hill-man brothers — Larry during the draft and Wayne in a three-for-one trade with New York, while Plante was the top name drafted Wednesday.

The North Stars and Toronto Maple Leafs were the two most active clubs on the player mar-ket. Minnesota acquired Wayne Hillman and two rookies, Joe Johnson and Dan Seguin, from New York in exchange for Dave Belon.

Balon was the first player chosen in the NHL's exonsion draft a year ago and in 1963 was part of a seven-player package deal that brought Plante from Montreal to New York.

Plante, after nine star-stud-ded seasons with Montreal, played two years for the Rangers and then retired in 1965. He won the Vezina Trophy as the league's top goalie six times in-cluding a record five straight.

Now 39, Plante returns to the NHL with a career 241 goals against average and 63 shut-outs.

He was the top name among 17 players drafted Wednesday. Oakland made Montreal de-fenseman Carol Vadnais the first choice of the draft and ex-posed another defenseman, Lar-ry Cahan, who was promptly picked up by the Canadiens.

Toronto drafted Larry Mickey Unser To Drive In Daytona Race

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Bobby Unser, the Indi-anapolis 500 winner, was signed Wednesday to drive a 1968 Chev-rolet Camaro in the second an-nual Paul Revere 250 July 3 at Daytona International Speed-way.

The NASCAR grand touring race begins at midnight and is run on the speedway's 3.81-mile track and road course.

The race is the first half of a doubleheader that is climaxed at 10 a.m. July 4 with the 10th running of the Firecracker 400 for grand national stock cars.

It will be Unser's first start on the huge Daytona track.

Streaking Tigers Notch 2-1 Victory Over Twins

DETROIT (AP)—There is an old saying about an ill wind that blows no good. But it doesn't ap-ply to the streaking Detroit Ti-gers.

Dick McAuliffe's seventh homer caught the wind blowing to right field in the eighth in-nings, providing Mickey Lolich with the victory, a 2-1 decision over the slumping Minnesota Twins Wednesday night.

The triumph, Detroit's eighth in its last nine games, boosted the American League leaders margin over second place Balti-more to five games as the Ori-oles were rained out.

McAuliffe's homer "wasn't hit good and just barely got in," said Minnesota Manager Cal Erner.

Legion Opener Ceremonies Set

POWERS — Opening of the 1968 American Legion baseball season in Powers-Spalding will be observed with special cere-monies at 2 p.m. Sunday, June 16. Commander Robert Smith of the Tony Revard Post No. 244 announced today.

Opening day opponents of the local legion team will be Cooks in a game scheduled to be played Sunday afternoon.

Smith is head coach of the Powers-Spalding team and he will be assisted by Bob Gustaf-son, Dennis McClure and Doug Hanson. Smith is in his 13th year of handling Legion base-ball in Powers-Spalding.

Candidates for this year's team are Pete Anderia, Mark Veaser, Jeff Naser, Kim Reidy, Bill Sheski, John Nelson, Mark Crandall, Mike Raiche, Tim Moran, Randy Fochesato, Scott Reidy, Mickey Adams, Dick Smith, Jim Charles, Mike La-Bonte, Dennis Grenier and George Maule.

The opening day ceremonies, such as will be conducted here, will be repeated throughout the nation as American Legion baseball teams begin competi-tion, which will be climaxed with the national finals August 29-September 3 in Manchester, N.H.

from New York. Bill Sutherland from Minnesota and Gary Marsh from Detroit. The Leafs lost Brian Conacher to Detroit, Larry Hillman from New York and Duane Rupp to Minnesota.

Moments after the Rangers got Larry Hillman, they ex-posed him and he was claimed by Minnesota. The North Stars then left Bill Plager available and the Rangers grabbed him.

In other player moves, St. Louis shipped defenseman Dar-ryl Edestrand and forward Ger-ry Melnyk to Philadelphia com-pleting a three-cornered deal started Tuesday which had moved Ab McDonald to St. Louis and Lou Angotti to Pitts-burgh.

The NHL announced that its 1969 All-Star Game would change format with East Divi-sion All-Stars playing a team of stars from the West Division. Previously, the All-Star team played the defending Stanley Cup champions.

GREEN BAY — General Man-ager Vince Lombardi of the Green Bay Packers today an-nounced the completion of the defending World Champions backfield for the 1968 campaign with the signing of running back Elijah Pitts. The seven year veteran Pitts joins quarterback Bart Starr and running backs Donny Anderson and Jim Grabowski who have also signed for 1968.

Last season both Pitts and Grabowski were sidelined fol-lowing the eighth game of the year, but both have fully recov-ered and are in top physical condition for the upcoming sea-son.

Last year Grabowski was the club's leading rusher, while An-derson ranked third and Pitts fourth. Starr, meanwhile, was the leading passer and Most Valuable Player for the second year in a row at the AFL-NFL World Championship Game.

Also announced today by Lom-bardi was the retirement of two year veteran tight end Allen Brown who has accepted a coaching position at the Uni-versity of Mississippi where he will also continue his education. Brown was a number three round selection of the Packers for 1965 after attaining All-American honors at Ole Miss.

Pat Jarvis dazzled the St. Louis Cardinals with wire-to-wire speed but Don Drysdale wasn't quick enough to fight off the New York Mets' finishing kick.

Jarvis, Atlanta's hard-throw-ing right-hander, hurled a three-hitter Wednesday night as the Braves ended a long stand-ing St. Louis hex by drubbing the National League leaders 7-1.

The Mets, blanked by Drys-dale for eight innings, caught up with the Los Angeles shutout king in the ninth and nipped the Dodgers 2-1.

San Francisco trimmed Pitts-burgh 4-2 and the Chicago Cubs downed Cincinnati 4-1 in after-noon action. Houston was rained out at Philadelphia.

Jarvis, 6-4, held St. Louis hit-less until the fifth inning and drove in the only two runs he needed with a pair of singles as Atlanta cooled off the sizzling Cardinals with a 13-hit attack.

The Cards had won 13 of their previous 15 starts and had beat-en the Braves 10 times in a row, sweeping their first six meet-ings this season.

"It's good to beat those Car-dinals," said Braves' pitcher Luman Harris. "It won't be the last time, either."

Harris said Jarvis "was great tonight. He kept the ball moving on them."

"It's the best game I've pitched this year," said the 27-year-old fireballer. "I was real fast. I had a fair changeup, but the fast ball was really mov-ing."

Hank Aaron clubbed a two-couldn't hit one out on me to-night and that's the way I like it."

The Twins' Harmon Killebrew belted a long drive to left center with a man on in the first but Mickey Stanley hauled it in, fail-ing to his knees to make the catch as the wind stopped it cold.

two men on in the first that turned into a routine out and Bill Freehan and Willie Horton hit similar drives in the sixth.

"If the wind wasn't blowing to right, I think at least two of them would have been out of the park," said McAuliffe, who had two of the four hits off loser Jim Kaat, 3-3.

His single in the first led to the first Detroit run. Mickey Stanley and Jim Northrup fol-lowed with walks and Willie Horton drove in McAuliffe with a sacrifice fly.

"Kaat is a tough pitcher," said McAuliffe. "He's not throw-ing as hard as he did before he had the sore arm but he's still tough on us."

Cesar Tovar drew a walk in the Twins' third, took second on a ground ball and scored the ty-ing run on Tony Oliva's single to right.

"I thought Oliva's hit was gone," said Lolich. "But it was a line drive. It was the only bad pitch I made."

The Tigers and the Twins wind up their four-game series with an afternoon game today. Den-ny McLain is set to oppose Min-nesota's Jim Merritt.

Richer Paces Drivers In Benefit Night Race

Jerry Richer paced all drivers last night at the U.P. State Fairgrounds before a benefit race night crowd of 1,800.

Richer captured the special 15 lap sprint race composed of the six fastest modified qualifiers. He then came back to take the second heat. He capped the evening with his third win in the feature. In the feature, Jim Peterson took an early lead, but Richer passed him on the seventh lap and won by a car length over Bob Iverson. With the wins, Richer now has a solid hold on the number one position in point standings.

The races ran smoothly until the sportsman feature when a two car smash-up in front of the grandstand brought the crowd to its feet. Jim Barron had trouble coming out of the corner and his car started to slide forcing the cars behind to go wide. With the cars bunched up, Don Bugay slammed into the concrete wall and Art Richer, following him, ran into the same trouble. Both drivers were forced from the race as the impact tore the right front tires off their cars. No one was injured. After the track was cleared Duke Gardiner pushed his 1957, 327 Chev to victory.

The modified Canadian Rac-ing team of Ed Pawley, Hubert Brazeau, Fred Page, Wes Beck-et, Angus McDonald, and Wayne Carter picked up two seconds and two thirds.

Modified:
Sprint Race, 1. Jerry Richer, 2. Wes Beckett, 3. Ed Pawley

Second heat, 1. Jim Peterson, 2. Jake Valiquette, 3. Ed Provo

Third heat, 1. Ron Paquette, 2. Jim Barron, 3. Duke Gardiner

Semi-feature, 1. Art LaFave, 2. Wayne Tourangeau, 3. Bob Bowden

Feature, 1. Duke Gardiner, 2. Jim Barron, 3. Herb Iverson

Fastest Qualifier, Art Richer, 21.22

Upon his arrival from the Dod-gers, the Cubs offered outfield-er Lou Johnson No. 22, to rhyme with "Sweet Lou," but he asked for his old Los Angeles number, 41. "I had three good years with it," Johnson explained.

$1,500 Grant To School Accepted

MR AND MRS NEIL NORLAND of Reford, Mich., announce the engagement of their daughter, Nancy Louise, to Richard Glen Pawley, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Pawley of Manistique. Both are students at Western Michigan University. A spring wedding is planned. (Minceff Studio Photo)

A grant in the amount of $1500 was accepted by the Area School Board at Tuesday night's monthly meeting, which will enable them to implement an accelerated recruiting program for special education instructors.

The money is available under Title IV of the Elementary-Secondary Education Act.

Board president Denton Nelson commended Norman W. Jahn Sr. for his interest and dedication during the four years Jahn has served on the area board. A formal resolution will be presented Jahn by all the board members. Jahn was defeated by Robert Knoph of Manistique Township in his bid for reelection Monday.

Nelson, Mrs. Jeanne Larson, vice president, and Mrs. Margaret Waters, secretary, were named to a special committee which will study and recommend individuals to serve on a special Advisory Committee to the board of education.

A sum of $2,004 was approved for additional expenses on the new Lakeside School from the Building and Site Fund. $1500 of the $2,002 is needed for sand fill to raise the building to meet existing sewer elevation and $504 is for changes in structural framing to permit use of a lighter gauge of metal.

The board expressed interest in a proposal which would provide a legislative lobbyist for the school districts in the U.P. The venture would be a co-operative financial one with 30 of the larger U.P. districts contributing.

A modified remodeling program was okayed which will cost under $600. A new wall in the rear entrance will be put up and a custodian's closet established; new tile will be laid on the floor; and the doors changed.

Bills in the amount of $13,959.59 were approved including $10,363.17, general fund; $106.22, ESEA IV; Hot lunch $1,824.32; and $197.04 building and site.

The board will meet July 1 at 7 p.m. in special session for reorganization with new officers to be elected.

Register Guns Tydings Asks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md., has proposed legislation to require the registration of all firearms. Owners also would have to obtain licenses to buy or keep firearms.

Willful failure to register or to obtain a license would be punishable by 10 years' imprisonment and a $10,000 fine.

Tydings said it was the most comprehensive and far-reaching federal gun control legislation ever proposed.

He said he felt a bill submitted to Congress by President Johnson to ban sales of rifles and shotguns by mail order, to juveniles, and to out-of-state residents is inadequate.

Tydings said it will be very difficult to pass either his bill or the President's this year, adding it will take "a tremendous outpouring of grass roots demand."

Controls similar to those proposed by Johnson for long guns are provided for handguns in the anticrime bill passed by Congress last week and now awaiting the President's signature.

A request that Johnson veto the crime control bill because of some of its other provisions came from Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez, D-Tex., and 19 other Democrats.

Gonzalez, in a letter to the President, referred to what he called the bill's blatant attempts to overturn recent Supreme Court decisions guaranteeing constitutional protection of the individual.

Johnson has not indicated what action he will take on the crime control bill, but he has called its section on firearms a halfway measure.

An attempt to win approval of Johnson's bill in the House Judiciary Committee failed Tuesday on a 16-16 tie vote, but Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., predicted approval of a gun bill at another meeting June 20.

Grand Rapids Reporter Wins News Contest

By The Associated Press
Robert Alt, a reporter for the Grand Rapids Press, spent two months last year pounding the pavement to interview about 100 people for a series of articles on problems of Negro housing in Grand Rapids.

Alt put in hours of work at his typewriter to turn out eight installments to the series, which today earned him the top prize in the annual newswriting contest of the Michigan Associated Press Editorial Association.

Alt's articles, printed in the Press last Sept. 10-18, were credited by some Grand Rapids residents with playing a role in the passage four months later of an open housing ordinance in the Western Michigan manufacturing city.

The articles were distributed widely when local religious groups reprinted them in pamphlet form.

Alt's series, in addition to winning the MAPEA Sweepstakes award, was given first place in the contest's feature service division.

Prizes were announced today by John O'Brien, Detroit News managing editor and chairman of the MAPEA Newswriting Contest Committee.

Adventist Youths Train For Service In Medical Corps

GRAND LEDGE (AP) — The National Medical Cadet Corps is scheduled to complete a two-week training course this week at the Seventh-Day Adventist Grand Ledge Academy.

Approximately 150 youths, 16 to 19 years, are in training at Camp Doss to prepare themselves for military service which will not infringe upon their objections to bear arms and take a human life.

Many of the Seventh-Day Adventist youths will serve in the Army Medical Corps. The camp, which instructs the young men in basic medical training, discipline and drill, attracts denominational youths from nearly every state in the union.

Japan To Import More Car Engines

TOKYO (AP)—Japan will inform the United States it will permit, beginning next year, an annual import of 30,000 automobile engines, the Trade Ministry said Wednesday.

Japan currently permits 1,000 foreign automobile engines to be imported annually.

The move to ease the quota is part of Japan's efforts to soften U.S. opposition to Japan's restrictive measures aimed at protecting her automobile industry from foreign car manufacturers, particularly those in the United States.

In loving memory of Henry J. Reiffers who passed away June 13, 1964.

Reiffers

In loving memory of our dear brother, Henry J. Reiffers who died suddenly, June 13, 1964.

He lived a beautiful life. That came to an end. He died as he lived. Everyone's friend. He had no one a last farewell. He said good-bye to none. His loving heart had ceased to beat. Before we knew it, he was gone. More and more each day we miss him. Friends may think our wound is healed. But a little knew the sorrow. That lies within our hearts concealed.

Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by Sisters Mrs. Alfred Holland and Mrs. Ensl Derouin

Manistique Area

Fish Now Taking Subsurface Bait

Weather conditions have been changeable from extremely warm to cooler with rain. Lake and stream levels are high but streams are receding. Surface temperatures on trout lakes have risen considerably and thus the brook trout are not as active on the surface as they were two weeks ago. Sub surface lures and live bait are producing better results than flies.

Sunfish are spawning and bluegills and bass are nesting. These fish are becoming more vulnerable to the fishermen.

There are indications of a good Juneberry crop this year. Blueberries and bunch berries are in bloom at the present time.

A bull moose was sighted crossing M-123 between the mouth of the Tahquamenon River and Paradise on June 7.

Rainbow Trout - A few nice fish were reported taken from the Soo Rapids of the St. Mary's River. There were a few fish also taken at the mouth of the Big Two Hearted River. Good catches are reported from Soldier Lake, Chippewa County; Camp 8 Lake, Luce County; Dutch Fred, Clear and Bear lakes, Schoolcraft County.

Lake Trout Fair - Brown Trout - Some fish reported from Long and Frank lakes, Luce County.

Brook Trout - Some good catches are reported from Sucker and Hurricane rivers, Alger County; From Teaspoon Creek, the Little Two Hearted and Upper Tahquamenon rivers, Pea-nut, Youngs and Syphon lakes, Luce County; East Branch Tahquamenon River, Chippewa County; Black River and Millecoquin Pond, Mackinac County; Fox River System and upper portion of Indian River, Schoolcraft County.

Lake Trout - Fair catches of lake trout are still being reported from lower Whitefish Bay between Salt Point and Pendill's Creek. Most of these fish are taken by bobbing in 120-180 foot depth using cut bait. A few lake trout are being taken by trollers out of Grand Marais, Alger County.

Splake - Tank and Holland Lake, Luce County have been producing a few fish - these are taken mostly on spawn and night crawlers.

Whitefish - Some good catches are reported from the channel in the "Shallows" of the Upper St. Mary's River and a few fish from the penstocks of the Car-bide Company in the Soo, Chippewa County. Small worms are the preferred bait.

Look For Coho - Coho - Anticipated fishing at Grand Marais area has not yet developed. A few stragglers are taken by trolling. Commercial fishermen are reporting the presence of a few in Whitefish Bay.

Walleye - Fishing is slow in the Manistique lakes, best catches per unit of effort are from the south end of Whitefish Lake. Fair catches are reported from Indian Lake and Manis-

HEW Fund Cut Is Protested

LANSING (AP) - Michigan's State Board of Education has protested to top Washington officials against a proposed $6 billion cut in federal spending.

The board said it is "deeply concerned, particularly if these cuts should be extensively applied to educational appropriations."

Board members said they particularly hoped there would be no reductions in spending for underprivileged and deprived children.

"It would be cruel, shortsighted and even dangerous to cut back these efforts after expectations have been aroused and further progress has been promised," the board letter said.

The board further urged that there be no cuts made in federal spending on summer programs for urban children and young people.

"These programs may well be our best opportunity for maintaining peace and safety upon the streets of our cities," the letter said.

Copies of the letter were sent to President Johnson, the secretary of health, education and welfare and the state's U.S. senators and representatives.

Synthetic emeralds were first produced in Germany in 1930.

tique River, Schoolcraft County. Good catches being made in Scotts Bay, Drummond Island and around Lime Island in Rapier Bay and Munuscong Bay. Some fish also taken in lower Tahquamenon River and Caribou and Frenchman lakes, Chippewa County.

Northern Pike - Reports of fair to good fishing from Shell-drake Flowage, Carp, Frenchman and Caribou lakes, Brimley Bay, Chippewa County; Blind Sucker Flowage, Muskallonge, Perch, Pike, Bodi lakes, Luce County; Les Cheneaux Channels (on live bait or trolling with artificials), East, Brevort, Little Brevort, Millecoquin, Milakokia lakes, Mackinac County; Manistique River, McDonald, Gulliver, Snyder, Sucker and Sullivan lakes, Schoolcraft County.

Good Bluegill Catches - Yellow Perch - Good catches from West Bay (Grand Marais), Alger County; Lower Tahquamenon Bay, Whitefish Point Harbor, Brimley Bay, Chippewa County; Round, Manistique, Muskallonge, Bass lakes, Luce County; Brevort Lake (good), Les Cheneaux Channels (fair), Mackinac County; Indian Lake, Schoolcraft County.

Smallmouth Bass - Fair in Grand Sable Lake, Alger County; fair catches on Round, East lakes, Luce County; good catches on Milakokia Lake and Epoufette and Kenyon bays, fair on Big Manistique Lake, Mackinac County; fair on Indian Lake, Schoolcraft County.

Bluegills - Good catches in Deadmans, East and Little Perch lakes, Luce County; Brevort, and Whitefish (S. Manistique) Mackinac County; Minerva, East, Crooked, Colwell and Cookson lakes, Sunken and Twin lakes, Schoolcraft County.

Rock Bass - Good fishing in Brevort and Millecoquin lakes, Mackinac County and Round Lake, Luce County.

Plan To Bury Dead Alewives

GRAND HAVEN (AP) - The city of Grand Haven has completed plans to dispose of alewives skimmed from Lake Michigan by a trawler and deposited ashore, City Manager R. V. Terrill told the City Council.

Grand Haven thus becomes one of the first cities along the eastern shore of Lake Michigan south to St. Joseph to complete plans to take care of the fish once they are dumped ashore. It is considered a major problem in the new method to help keep beaches free of the fish.

Michigan has approved matching funds for a federal-state effort with other Great Lakes states to skim the fish from the lake with nets before the herring-like fish wash ashore. Solution of the disposal problem, left up to local units of government, was necessary before the trawler could operate in an area.

Terrill said the fish taken from Lake Michigan between Holland and Grand Haven would be hauled by truck to a location outside the city where they would be buried. The trawlers are to operate 12 hours a day, six days a week, Terrill added.

Employment Hit New Top In May

WASHINGTON (AP) - The nation's total employment reached a record high of 75.9 million last month and unemployment remained at a 15-year low, the Labor Department reported today.

Average earnings of some 45 million non-supervisory workers also climbed to a new high in May of $2.82 per hour and $106.03 a week, up 2 cents an hour and $1.59 per week from April.

The nationwide unemployment rate remained at 3.5 per cent of the civilian labor force for the second straight month, matching the lowest figure since November of 1953.

The unemployment rate for Negroes edged down from 6.7 to 6.4 per cent, equalling the lowest figure since 1954.

The jobless rate for teenagers rose from 11.9 to 12.6 per cent and an even further rise is expected this month as school youths flood the labor market. For Negro teenagers, the jobless rate was about double at 24.7 per cent, Goldstein said.

The number of unemployed persons totaled 2.3 million of which 466,000 were Negroes or other nonwhites, the Bureau said.

Total employment was up by 2.3 million over the past year and unemployment was down about 150,000.

The number of hard-core unemployed, out of work 15 weeks or more, was down some 25,000 to 440,000 over the year, or a rate of five-tenths of one per cent of the civilian labor force. This is the group on which the Labor Department is concentrating with job training programs.

Go-Carter Killed

PLAINWELL (AP) - A 7-year-old Allegan boy was killed Wednesday when the go-cart he was driving went out of control and rolled under a mobile home at a dealership in Plainwell. Killed was Martin Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Johnson.

Steel Walkout At Sault Ends

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (AP) - The Algoma Steel Corp. in Sault Ste. Marie is back in production today.

A work stoppage had resulted after an illegal walkout by some 1,000 of the plants 8,000 cold-steel mill workers who walked off the job May 21 for protesting the operation of a crane. Violence erupted Monday night when workers blocked entrances to the steel plant.

The company has agreed to drop plans to dismiss four "ringleaders" and will penalize them with up to 30 days in suspensions. A company spokesman said the company has also agreed to drop plans to obtain a consent to prosecute writ from the Ontario Labor Relations Board.
